LETTER FROM ALPI® PRESIDENT FRANCESCO INDRIO

Richmond, November 2021

Greetings from the Indrio family and welcome back to the Alpi catalog! While the last two years have been tumultuous to say the least, here at Alpi we have made some key changes in order to continue servicing your needs. Like most suppliers, we quickly pivoted to providing PPE when our industry and country needed it most. We used the slowdown to move our entire company (over 1,000 pallets of product and more!) to a facility nearby, capable of holding significantly more inventory. We have also implemented some long term changes to the structure of our company.

Our son, Marco, has been working in the company for several years now and has taken big strides in becoming the central figure at Alpi. Already known to many of you in the industry, he continues to bring the creative energy and drive necessary for keeping Alpi a top supplier.

From all three generations of Indrio's pictured here, we want to thank you for your support during these trying times and we look forward to a healthy and prosperous 2022.

FULL-COLOR

Photo - quality images and graphics can now be applied where previously only pad printing was available.

In the last few years, digital printing technology has made it possible to put a full color imprint on many 3 dimensional items. Instead of a simple one or two color imprint this technology opens up a whole new array of possibilities for full color advertising. Full color printing is not yet available on all items. Pictured here is a sampling of items that can be used for full color printing. Please call us for more ideas and information.

Pricing is related to the size of the imprint as well as other factors. As a guideline, smaller coverage areas will incur a running charge of $0.75/v; larger coverage areas, $1.50/v. The set up charge is $60/v, repeat set up charge is $45/v. Special handling charges and additional production time may apply, no rush options are available.

Visit Alpi.net to see a full list of items that can be imprinted, or look for the "Full Color" icon in this catalog.

PPAI Product Safety Ambassador
Early Adopter of the
PPAI Code of Conduct

ALPI is Serious about Safety

Visit our alpi.net for our complete statement on product safety.

Alpi's supply chain is based on a number of long standing relationships with our suppliers. This is the base for our assurance that our products are produced in an ethical and safe way, and that the final product is safe for our users. ALPI continues to address and comply with all applicable safety standards and regulations as they evolve. Staying compliant with the constantly changing safety information and regulations has been a goal for us since our start 35 years ago. Alpi strives to keep up with and abide by all legal warning and labeling requirements as established by the U.S. government and the Consumer Product Safety Commission.

We personally visit the factories we buy from to insure that they continue to meet our standards. We will not do business with factories we believe are in violation of our policies or engaged in unethical conduct. We prefer our personal auditing to third party inspections because a third party inspection may not be accurate. We also implement random testing of one or more items out of any shipment we are receiving. Random testing allows us to insure that our factories continue to produce high quality items that can pass all applicable safety tests at any time.

CPSIA of 2008

While Alpi has created and launched many fun toys and novelty items over the years, our products have always been designed and intended for use by adults. This is especially true now that Alpi is only selling to the promotional and advertising industry. This does not exempt us from providing items that are non toxic at all times and under all circumstance, but it exempts us from certain new labeling requirements that are applicable only for items intended primarily for children under 12 years of age.

About our stress relievers: currently the CPSC regards stress relievers as products intended for adults. As such, stress relievers are not subject to tracking label requirements. However, if items are ordered with the purpose of being sold to children, Alpi provides the necessary warnings and recall notices by printing them on the product. When we are handling the sale of our Squeezies®, all our paperwork, from Sales Order, to Order Confirmations, Invoices and even paper proofs bears a statement that requires our customers to specify when the product is being intended for children under 12 years of age.

If the primary intended users of our stress relievers are children under 12 years of age we will register each item in the PPAI database and print them with a non-removable tracking label. We will do this also for items we believe might be attractive to children, in case a child should pick it up. This requirement is necessary to comply with the CPSIA. An additional fee for printing this label will be incurred.

California Proposition 65

Proposition 65 requires consumer product warnings for products shipped to California that may expose consumers in the state of California to a published list of carcinogens or reproductive toxins unless such substances are present in levels that pose no harm. After a complete review of the text of the law updated in 2018, Alpi believes our products are exempt from the requirement of labeling our products. Under sect. 25249.10c of the original text of the law, our products do not expose any user to any risk of permanent damage or intoxication. Our safety tests explicitly declare our products are safe under California proposition 65.

All safety test documents are available upon request.
